President's Welcome

Welcome to the 2011 Annual Meeting of the Social Science History Association! We have an exciting program this year. Thanks to all of you for sharing your work and to the Program Co-chairs and Network Representatives for the hard work of putting it all together.

Our theme this year is "Generation to Generation," and I encourage you to attend the Presidential Sessions, which cover a wide range of topics from the inheritance of reproductive behavior to the intergenerational transmission of feminism. If you are new to SSHA, be sure to participate in the network meetings on Friday and Saturday. SSHA is a very decentralized organization, and much of the planning for the next annual meeting takes place at the network meetings. The network meeting is your chance to influence the 2012 program.

Please join us at the Business Meeting on Saturday afternoon. This is an opportunity for us to thank those who work on SSHA committees throughout the year and to congratulate our award winners. We also have a very important agenda item – revising the SSHA Constitution.

On behalf of the Association, I would like to thank everyone who has contributed to the Charles Tilly and Louise Tilly Fund for Social Science History, which is administered on our behalf by the Social Science Research Council. The Tilly fund provides support for graduate student travel grants and a prize to the best student presentation. This is how we assure the vitality of the next generation of SSHA.

Special thanks to the Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan and to the Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR) for sponsoring the President's Reception. This is ICPSR's 50th Anniversary, and we are celebrating our long association with SSHA. I hope to see you all at the President's Reception on Saturday evening!

SSHA Membership

The Social Science History Association is an interdisciplinary group of scholars that shares interests in social life and theory; historiography, and historical and social-scientific methodologies. SSHA might be best seen as a coalition of distinctive scholarly communities. Our substantive intellectual work ranges from everyday life in the medieval world – and sometimes earlier -- to contemporary global politics, but we are united in our historicized approach to understanding human events, explaining social processes, and developing innovative theory.

The term “social science history” has meant different things to different academic generations. In the 1970s, when the SSHA’s first meetings were held, the founding generation of scholars took it to reflect their concern to address pressing questions by combining social-science method and new forms of historical evidence. Quantitative approaches were especially favored by the association’s historical demographers, as well as some of the economic, social and women’s historians of the time. By the 1980s and 1990s, other waves of scholars – including culturally-oriented historians and anthropologists, geographers, political theorists, and comparative-historical social scientists -- had joined the conversation.

New intellectual directions continue to emerge at the outset of the 21st century. Today’s SSHA incorporates a diversity of scholarly styles, with lots of crosstalk among them.

Inquiries about membership in the Social Sciences History Association should be directed to William C. Block, Cornell University - CISER, 391 Pine Tree Road, Ithaca, New York 14850. Email: block@cornell.edu.

SSHA Journal

Social Science History, the journal of the Social Science History Association, is published quarterly and is sent to members of the association. Manuscripts should be submitted in triplicate to editor Douglas Anderton, Social Science History, Social and Demographic Research Institute, W34A Machmer Hall, University of Massachusetts, Amherst, MA 01003-9278, e-mail: ssh-journal@sadri.umass.edu.

SSHA 2012 Annual Conference

The Social Science History Association will hold its 37th annual conference in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, November 1-4, 2012. The conference will be held at the Westin Bayshore. The organization's long-standing interest in methodology makes SSHA meetings exciting places to explore new solutions to historical problems. We encourage the participation of graduate students and recent PH.D.s, as well as more-established scholars, from a wide range of disciplines and departments.

Future dates and sites: November 21-24, 2013, Chicago (Palmer House); November 6-9, 2014, Toronto, Ontario, Canada (The Fairmont Royal York); November 12-15, 2015, Baltimore, Maryland (Hyatt Regency Baltimore on the Inner Harbor); November 17-20, 2016, Chicago (Palmer House); November 21-24, 2019, Chicago (Palmer House).

Book Exhibit

The book exhibit will be located in the Georgian/Arlington, on the 2nd floor, Mezzanine Level of the Boston Park Plaza. In addition to The Scholar's Choice, which will be representing several publishers, SSHA welcomes the following exhibitors: Duke University Press, the University of Minnesota (Minnesota Population Center), Cambridge University Press, and ICPSR, University of Michigan.

Exhibit Schedule:

Friday, November 18, 8:00am-5:30pm

Saturday, November 19, 8:00am-4:30pm

Welcome to Boston or “Beantown” as it is commonly referred to. Boston is a dynamic city, steeped in history, culture and old world charm, as well as academic and medical excellence with cosmopolitan sophistication. With 21 distinctive neighborhoods, each with its own charm and personality, Boston belongs to a diversity of people whose heritage is surrounded by the beautiful Charles River and the Atlantic Ocean.

Boston has all of the amenities of a big city with the comfort and feel of a small town. The compact layout makes it ideal to navigate on foot and has helped to define Boston as “America’s Walking City.” Surrounded by natural beauty, Boston’s 48 square miles are encircled by a bustling harbor, tranquil coastline and a string of parks known as the Emerald Necklace.

Boston has something to offer everyone. For those interested in history, you can walk the Freedom Trail and learn about the role Boston played before and after the American Revolution. Art lovers can visit any one of the many art museums in the city to view exhibits showcasing everything from contemporary to traditional art, in the form of sculptures and paintings. Music lovers can choose from a variety of different venues that play everything from jazz to rock and roll to classical tunes. Sports lovers can take their pick of any type of game they want to attend. Boston has both professional and college teams in every major sports arena. Or if you don’t have any real desires, we invite you to take a leisurely stroll along the Charles River or through the Boston Public Garden.

Shoppers will be content with the variety of different stores and shops to visit. Near City Hall, you can visit historic Faneuil Hall Marketplace for your traditional Boston souvenirs, or you can bargain with the vendors in Hay Market for fresh seafood and produce. For high end shopping, you won’t be disappointed in the Copley/Back Bay section of Boston. Everyone enjoys strolling along Newbury Street, Boston’s version of Rodeo drive.

While in Boston, you can find restaurants to suit any taste throughout the city. In the North End, Bostonians indulge in authentic Italian cuisine. The Back Bay offers some of the best steakhouses, as well as some of the city’s quaint cafés. Theater-goers can enjoy a pre and post show meal from a variety of cuisines in the Theatre district. For a relaxing snack or drink, stop into a café in the South End or on Newbury Street. Of course, you can always go to the place where everybody knows your name, Cheers! However, your trip to Boston would not be complete without having a seafood dish at one of the many restaurants along the Waterfront.

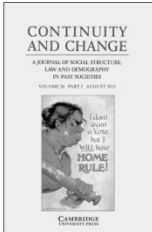

Boston has something to offer everyone. For more information, please visit the Greater Boston Convention & Visitors Bureau’s website at www.bostonusa.com to make all of your arrangements for a memorable trip to Boston.
