President's Welcome

I am delighted to welcome you to Toronto for the 2014 Annual Meeting of the Social Science History Association. Many of our panels this year focus on the theme "Inequalities: Politics, Policy, and the Past." Few problems have been more central to the work of social science historians than inequalities—whether our concern has been the social, political, and economic inequalities that divide people in the same country or the vast disparities of wealth, power, and military might that distinguish different countries and regions of the world. I am especially indebted to this year's program committee, Tony Chen (Northwestern/Sociology), Margaret O'Mara (Washington/History), and Ken Sylvester (Michigan/ICPSR), who crafted the call for papers, worked closely with the Network Chairs, and helped assemble a rich set of presidential panels.

No conference better demonstrates the excitement of interdisciplinary scholarship than this one. Our program includes cutting-edge scholarship by demographers, economists, geographers, historians, legal scholars, philosophers, political scientists, sociologists, urban planners, and more.

I am grateful to all those who have contributed to the Charles and Louise Tilly Fund for Social Science History. This fund supports travel awards for promising graduate students to present at the conference as well as a prize for the best graduate student paper at the annual meeting. Graduate students are both vital to the association's present and constitutive of its future, so contributions to this fund are most welcome.

Finally, please join us on Saturday evening for the Business Meeting, our awards ceremony, and the Presidential Address. These are followed by the President's Reception. When you are not attending panels, we encourage you to explore Toronto, one of the most diverse and cosmopolitan cities in North America.

SSHA Membership

The Social Science History Association is an interdisciplinary group of scholars that shares interests in social life and theory; historiography, and historical and social-scientific methodologies. SSHA might be best seen as a coalition of distinctive scholarly communities. Our substantive intellectual work ranges from everyday life in the medieval world – and sometimes earlier -- to contemporary global politics, but we are united in our historicized approach to understanding human events, explaining social processes, and developing innovative theory.

The term “social science history” has meant different things to different academic generations. In the 1970s, when the SSHA’s first meetings were held, the founding generation of scholars took it to reflect their concern to address pressing questions by combining social-science method and new forms of historical evidence. Quantitative approaches were especially favored by the association’s historical demographers, as well as some of the economic, social and women’s historians of the time. By the 1980s and 1990s, other waves of scholars – including culturally-oriented historians and anthropologists, geographers, political theorists, and comparative-historical social scientists -- had joined the conversation.

New intellectual directions continue to emerge at the outset of the 21st century. Today’s SSHA incorporates a diversity of scholarly styles, with lots of crosstalk among them.

Inquiries about membership in the Social Sciences History Association should be directed to William C. Block, Cornell University - CISER, 391 Pine Tree Road, Ithaca, New York 14850. Email: block@cornell.edu.

SSHA Journal

Social Science History, the journal of the Social Science History Association, is published quarterly and is sent to members of the association. Submissions are invited via the online platform supported by Editorial Manager. SSHA 2015 Annual Conference

The Social Science History Association will hold its 40th annual conference in Baltimore, Maryland, November 12-15, 2015. The conference will be held at the Hyatt Regency Baltimore, located on the Inner Harbor. The organization's long-standing interest in methodology makes SSHA meetings exciting places to explore new solutions to historical problems. We encourage the participation of graduate students and recent PH.D.s, as well as more-established scholars, from a wide range of disciplines and departments.

Future dates and sites: November 17-20, 2016, Chicago (Palmer House);
November 21-24, 2019, Chicago (Palmer House).

Book Exhibit

The book exhibit will be located on the Convention Floor of the Fairmont Royal York in the Ballroom. In addition to The Scholar's Choice, which will be representing several publishers, SSHA welcomes the following exhibitors: the University of Minnesota (Minnesota Population Center), Cambridge University Press, the University of Chicago Press, and Scholarly Book Services Inc.

Exhibit Schedule:

Friday, November 7, 8:00am – 5:00pm

Exploring the History of a Toronto Foodscape: A Walking Tour of Kensington Market

Saturday, 2:00-5:00 pm

For generations people from all over the world have settled in and around Toronto. The demographics have certainly shifted over time, but as an urban area that attracts over 100,000 immigrants each year Toronto has a vibrant food scene that reflects the mutually enriching integration of, and divisions among, its diverse communities. Across the city we find immigrant cuisines that have adapted over generations to local produce and staples, increasing availability of imported food products to meet the needs of growing newcomer communities, and the transformation of familiar forms into exciting new combinations. Kensington market, in downtown Toronto, offers a rich ground to explore the ways in which streetscapes of the city reflect food habits and rituals that express fundamental cultural values, while crossing culinary boundaries fluidly and with great cosmopolitan pride. Questions and practices of cultural distinction, justice, access, locality, production/consumption, and identity converge in this Kensington, as does a history of contestation and transformation. On this tour through talk and taste, we explore the historical dynamics of some of these local foodscapes.

Toronto Information

Toronto is one of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world; a place where international ideas intersect with Canadian culture. A centre of rare openness, warmth, energy and style, Toronto is enriched by the fusion of traditions, passions and perspectives on life of the more than 100 cultures found here.

A city of contrasts, Toronto's skyline includes the CN Tower, one of the Modern Wonders of the World and glass skyscrapers juxtaposed with historic limestone facades. Miles of waterfront, boardwalks, parks and trails nestle together with urban delights like cafés, artisans' exhibits and one-of-a-kind shops.

Recent "starchitectural" enhancements to prominent arts attractions have prompted pundits to refer to a "cultural renaissance" taking place in Toronto. Daniel Libeskind's addition to the Royal Ontario Museum, Frank Gehry's renewal of the Art Gallery of Ontario and the wholly new Four Seasons Centre for the Performing Arts, designed by Jack Diamond, are just a few of the remarkable additions to the cityscape.

Beyond the city limits are breathtaking attractions within bucolic countryside. Experience the wonder of Niagara Falls, a renowned wine region, outstanding theatres and outdoor adventures—all within a short drive.

Nightlife abounds with some 200 dance and theatre companies offering everything from mega-musicals to avant-garde works, Toronto rivals New York and London with its live theatre offerings. Clubs offer enticing distractions including hot jazz, side-splitting comedy, acoustic artistry and celebrities taking in the latest DJs.

Multiculturalism is reflected in the food most of all—from street food to white linen dining—innovation and fusion are the watch words in Toronto tastes. With over 7,000 restaurants dishing out anything one's stomach desires, it's hard to go hungry here.

Shoppers delight in trendy Queen Street West, Yorkville's designer boutiques, fabulous malls like the Toronto Eaton Centre and Vaughan Mills and the PATH, which features more than 1,200 shops in over 16 miles of underground concourses.
